

Reading Women Challenge

Use the list below to keep track of the books you read.
Share your progress with #ReadingWomenChallenge
Hosted by @thereadingwomen

1. A book by a woman in translation _____
(bonus if also translated by a woman)
2. A fantasy novel written by a woman of color _____
3. A book set in the American South _____
4. A short story collection _____
5. A graphic novel or memoir _____
6. A book published by an independent press _____
7. A book set in Russia or by a Russian author _____
8. A book with a immigrant or a refugee viewpoint character _____
9. A book by an Australian or a Canadian author _____
10. An essay collection _____
11. A book about someone with a chronic illness _____
12. A true crime book _____
13. A book by an African American Woman about Civil Rights _____
14. A classic novel written by a woman _____
(bonus points if not Austen or a Brontë)
15. A poetry collection _____
16. A book where the characters are traveling somewhere _____
17. A book with a food item in the title _____
18. A book written by a female Nobel Prize winner _____
19. A book from the Reading Woman Award 2017 shortlists _____
20. A memoir by someone who lives in a country different from yours _____
21. A book inspired by a fairytale _____
22. A book by a local author or recommended by your local bookstore _____
23. The book that has been on your TBR the longest _____
24. A book in a genre you have never read _____

Bonus

25. A book by Virginia Woolf _____
26. A book by Flannery O'Connor _____